Since the Elkton bridge has washed away, we would suggest that you build an iron bridge instead of the one to the line. By so doing it would encourage the citizens of Monterey to extend this end of the pike to the line and then we would have a good turnpike from Frankfort through to the Ohio River.

At Haven.
For a long time there has been a need for just such a monument as Kendall's Spavin Cure.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Frankfort, Kentucky
a second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 17, 1893.

Please bear in mind that the blue pencil mark X on your paper indicates that the time for which you have paid has expired and you are requested to call around and settle.

Garden seeds in bulk at Banta's.

Chickens, geese, fish, and oysters at Banta's.

The Morris-Staines Company sold, the first of the week, 450,000 feet of walnut lumber to parties in Canada.

Mrs. Sarah Luckett sold, the first of the week, her house and lot on Shelby street, opposite Judge Craddock's residence, to Mr. Sidney French for $1,200.

Hon. J. Q. Chenoweth, Senator from this district in the Legislature of 1870-71, is at present a member of the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature.

Talk is cheap but there is no flour equal to J. E. M. Don't let anybody talk you into paying as much for an inferior flour as you have to pay for J. E. M. Price $4.00 per 100 pounds.

The steamboats are fighting each other in rates, and from the way they are cutting down prices we may soon expect them to try to take passengers for nothing and taro in tree trunks and a chromo.

The remains of Mrs. Lizzie Montgomery, of Lexington, were brought to this city Tuesday morning and taken down to LeCompte's Bottom, on the Fannie Freese, for interment in the old family burying ground. The deceased was a aunt of Mr. Joe LeCompte, of this city.

We are under obligations to Mr. Edmond Power for one of the prettiest as well as the most fragrant bouquets we have seen this season. His large green houses on the hill above the city are now filled with a large and well selected stock of flowering plants, which he is supplying to customers on short notice.

Judging from the way some of our citizens are protesting against the location of the Opera House that indignation meeting will yet be held. The City Council were told with the question again Tuesday night without coming to a final vote, and laid it over to await the return of Councilman McCare.

Rev. Aaron Green, a colored Methodist preacher and for many years a resident of this city, died in Cincinnati, on the 6th inst., at the advanced age of 95 years. The deceased will be remembered by our older citizens as "Doctor" Green, who for thirty years was physician at the old Common wealth office, and a man highly respected by all who knew him, both white and colored. He was raised in Lexington, being a slave of the Keiser family, who sold him to Mr. Sayre, and was by him sold to the late Col. A. G. Hodges, who allowed him to buy himself and then retained him in his employ. As a boy we learned to respect this good old man, and as we grew to manhood that feeling increased with our years. He is gone and we revere his memory. He died as he had lived—a Christian. Peace to his ashes.

Messrs. Slagg, Hume & Co., who represent the E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co., will shortly establish in this city a bottling factory for bottling the O. F. C. Carlsberg & J. S. Taylor brands of whisky. They have engaged the services of Mr. L. B. Warren, who is situated to be thoroughly familiar with the business and a gentleman of intelligence and large business capacity, to conduct the operations of the factory. Mr. Warren has recently, with his son, located on the South Side. There has been so much piracy in the sale of inferior whisky in bottles as O. F. C. whisky, one Chicago firm having even been caught selling cases of empty bottles labelled O. F. C., that the E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co. are determined to protect their brands under their own seal and trademark, and at the same time supply the wants of that large class of citizens who don't want to buy a barrel, but only a bottle or two, of genuine O. F. C.

The parties have leased a section of South's large warehouse near the depot, and are engaged putting in the necessary machinery.

A Frankfort Boy in the Land of the Greaser.

PERQUERA, STATE OF SONORA, MEXICAN REPUBLIC, March 3d, 1893.

Editor Roundabout.

From my earliest childhood I have heard and read of the "Garden of Eden," but I have certainly found that place here, and Moses must have made a mistake when he said it was on the other side of the desert. I arrived in the city of Hermosillo on the morning of March 1st, and as I was right from the "snowy range" of New Mexico, to come straight into the sun-bathed tropics of the "land of Montezuma," where now go laden twelve months in the year, is enough to make one fall in love with such a country. Hermosillo is the Capital of the State of Sonora, and Genl. Enriquez is the Governor. Hermosillo is the prettiest town I have ever seen. All the streets are lined with orange trees, and the trees are hanging full of ripe fruit. In company with a friend of mine, M. A. F. Loeble, I took a stroll through the Plaza, in front of the Governor's palace, and there I saw oranges, figs and lemon trees with foliage that reminded me of the forests at home, in the summer months. All sorts of flowers are numerous here, and in full bloom. The weather is warm but not sultry. All kinds of tropical birds are here and of the most beautiful plumage. Even the poll parrot is found here, as is the mockingbird, in great numbers. The enterprising class of Mexicans welcome the Americans here, but the common "Greaser," or the lower class, are still holding that old war prejudice against us, and say "Take us Texas, and we can whip you." This is a sample phrase of their common intelligence. There are two tribes of Indians here, they are the Papagos and the "Yuki," or Yaquis. The former are lazy and indolent, but the latter work on the railroad, and are more industrious. The "Hemion Chinee" is also seen here. We have a Chinese cook, and he is a good one, and "John" knows his business. I am agent and operator at this point, and am only 25 miles from the beautiful capital city. It does look so funny to me to see men, women and children here, going laden, though the climate will admit of the like. Oranges and lemons here sell for a cent a piece. The lemons are sweet, but there is a small species of lemon here called "limes," that are sourer than the others, and in America, I wonder if I can't come back there and persuade one of those pretty Frankfort girls to come over here with me. I will see about it when I come back to the United States. I will enclose my address, and you can let my little friend, "THE ROUNDABOUT," come on. Whatever the postage is I will pay the same by forwarding the money. I must have the Roundabout at my cost.

I am your friend throughout time,
G. G. G.

On Saturday night a thief went to the residence of Mr. John Branch, about two miles from this city, on the Shellgville pike, and effected an entrance by cutting a glass out of the kitchen window, removing the fastening and raising the sash. Robt. W. Scott, a short distance away, where they were found by Mr. Hearn, after discovering his house had been broken into. Instead of removing them Mr. Hearn and his brother secreted themselves near by and waited for the return of the thieves, and when they made their appearance came out from their hiding place and demanded their surrender. Masters ran and made good his escape, but Noel was captured, brought to this city, and lodged in jail. He waived an examination Tuesday, and in default of $200 bond was sent to jail to await the action of the Circuit Court. When taken he had several door keys in his pocket, which had been filed to make it some lock which he had evidently been tampering with.
